

How to smooth your transition from MIM 2016 with support from One Identity and Avanade

If you're using Microsoft/Forefront Identity Manager (FIM/MIM), you're probably aware that FIM/MIM is in extended support. So, how you can make the transition as smooth as possible? Other considerations may include:

- How should you embrace future identity security technology?
- What cybersecurity gaps do you need to address today and in the future?
- How do you implement modern identity security strategies?
- What is an ideal way to seamlessly manage your hybrid environment and close cybersecurity gaps?
- Will this change result in new gaps or duplicate systems?

One Identity & Avanade can help you on this journey. We do so with our customers every day.

One Identity & Avanade has long supported and augmented Microsoft IAM solutions and has worked closely with Microsoft on IAM integrations and are now helping clients as they transition from MIM 2016. So, how can One Identity & Avanade help your organization?

Together, we will start with an identity maturity and optimization assessment, in which our team of identity-security experts provides a set of workshops to review your strategy, tools and challenges. We'll get to understand how your organization uses MIM and then provide you with a gap assessment. This assessment identifies where your organization is on the Identity Security Maturity Framework. We demonstrate where your identity security needs are and how they should be addressed.

For perspective and a baseline, we show you how MIM meets your current needs and where you will have gaps moving forward. Plus, we'll show you how a third-party solution can close gaps and elevate your efficiency. We complete the assessment by providing the findings to you and your stakeholders. From there, we can collaborate to create an action plan that fits your business and security requirements to make the transition from MIM seamless and secure.

Identity is our business, and our customers trust us to help them make the best choices in their journey. We want to help you as well.

Whether it is privileged access management; identity integration; synchronization to non-Microsoft identity stores, such as SAP; single sign-on and MFA; or you need to optimize your identity provisioning and joiner/moving/leaver processes – One Identity has you covered.
